HISTORY OF THE METHODIST CHURCH IN KENTUCKY

The historian informs us that the "first Methodist society in the District of Kentucky was organized in 1793 by Francis Clark, a local preacher who emigrated from Virginia to Kentucky during that year and settled in Mercer County. He organized the class at a point about six miles west of Danville." In the year 1786 the first regularly appointed ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church entered Kentucky, James Haw and Benjamin Ogden were the men and they were appointed by Bishop Asbury.

The first Methodist Conference held within the bounds of Kentucky was held at Masterson's Station near Lexington in the spring of the year 1790. For this conference Bishop Asbury crossed the Allegheny Mountains on horseback protected by an armed escort. Six preachers assembled and under the presidency of Bishop Asbury the conference proceeded. The names of these pioneers in this first conference must never be forgotten. They are as follows: —Francis Poythress, James Haw, Wilson Lee, Stephen Brooks, Barnabas McHenry, Peter Massie. At this conference the question of education was discussed and three hundred pounds was raised with which to establish an academy. The school building was soon erected and the institution became known as Bethel Academy in Jessamine county Kentucky.

Two great Districts were organized in Kentucky in 1787: Cumberland District, which embraced Middle Tennessee and Southern and some of Southeastern Kentucky including what is now Barbourville and beyond into the mountain regions of Bell and Harlan Counties; the other District was known as the Kentucky District and embraced all the territory of Kentucky not included in the Cumberland District. Goose Creek and Richland appear to be believed, for the first time in Methodist records for the year 1811 and it is inferred that Barbourville was included in this circuit from all this territory may have been included in the earlier circuits. It certainly was in the Cumberland District.

The year 1812 saw the division of the great and historic Western Conference, of which Kentucky had been a part, into the Ohio and Tennessee Conferences and the territory of Kentucky was divided between the two above named conferences.

In 1821 the Kentucky Conference was organized and its first session was held in Lexington. Bishop George and Bishop Roberts were both present and presided alternately. At this conference it was decided that an institution of higher learning should be established and Augusta College came into being. 1844 saw "the great division" resulting in the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church South in 1845. For the next twenty years the work of the Kentucky Conference was greatly retarded.

1886 saw the birth of Union College, Barbourville, Ky. With the subsequent history of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Kentucky it is presumed all are familiar.

Rheumatism at 60

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S. S. S. do it. It will build you up, too!

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight. The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars. Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.
